Sediment and aquatic habitat in river systems. Journal of Hydraulic NONYMOUS Engineering 118: 669 - 687. The present-day knowledge of associations between sediment and riverine aquatic habitats is summarized. Physical processes governing aquatic-habitat quality and development are discussed. It is determined that engineering approaches can be used to evaluate and predict aquatic-habitat conditions. Keywords: River, sediment, sedimentation, sediment transport 16. B, T. 1990. The utility of soil surveys to assess floodplain sediment storage in southeastern EACH Minnesota. Professional Geographer 42: 170 - 181. A comparison is made between sedimentation data, collected from field corings, and information derived from three county soil surveys in southeastern Minnesota. Two soil surveys prove to be unsatisfactory data sources for sedimentation rates, but the third is useful for one drainage basin. Even the third soil survey would require calibration for use in a geographic information system, however, because it is only the surveys maximum estimate that agrees with the field data. Keywords: Floodplain, sediment, sedimentation, soil EACH 17. B, T. 1992. Estimating soil loss from medium-size drainage basins. Physical Geography 13: 206 - 224. Several methods of estimating historical soil loss from medium-sized watersheds are available, but none of them are perfect. By using a variety of methods and comparing their results for convergence, one can maximize the accuracy for soil-loss estimates. In this study, four different methods of estimating soil loss from two medium-sized watersheds in southeastern Minnesota are compared. These methods include the soil-survey and soil-truncation method, gully-erosion estimates, reservoir-sedimentation measurements combined wi. . . This item ships from La...
