Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Practical Recreation Manual for Schools In order to stimulate the use of the playground, and to help the teachers of Oregon in their work of directing the play of school children, this department published, in 1914, a Recreation Manual. That the bulletin might present the best thought of the day in this problem of playgrounds, we asked the National Playground Association of America for assistance in collecting the material. The association assigned to this work one of its field secretaries, Mr. L. H. Weir, and his assistant, Mrs. Stella Walker Durham. Each school in Oregon was furnished with a copy of the manual, and the results during the first three years have been most gratifying. Supervised play has come to be considered one of the indispensable activities of our schools. Happy, healthful children during the intermissions means studious, ambitious children in the schoolroom. To be recognized as standard, a rural or village school in Oregon must have at least three pieces of playground apparatus, and thousands of dollars have been well spent in Oregon during the past three years in providing playgrounds for the children and equipping them. So great has been the demand for this bulletin that we have found it necessary to publish a new edition. Before doing this we have completely revised this manual, omitting games which did not prove successful, and adding others which have been tried out on Oregon playgrounds. In the work of revision we secured the assistance of Miss Laura Taylor, physical director of the Oregon Normal School, who prepared the chapter on Plays and Games ; Professor Arthur L. Peck, of the Oregon Agricultural College, who...
