PROPERTIES OF BAMBOO FIBRE

LAP Lambert Academic Publishing Mai 2014, 2014. Taschenbuch. Book Condition: Neu. 220x150x4 mm. This item is printed on demand - Print on Demand Neuware - The acceptability of an engineering material largely depends on the ease with which its behaviour can be predicted under a given loading and working conditions. These predictions can be done based on thorough and extensive investigation of the micro-structural and mechanical response of the material. With the increased interest in plant fibre reinforced plastics, it...
